The mission of the Ohio chapter of The National Association of Professional Organizers is to expose the world to the value of being organized. Being the "Organizing Authority", NAPO's professionals provide both knowledge and effective solutions to help individuals gain more control over their lives and eliminate stress! Our society reinforces the message that people need to buy more and more items that simply add to the chaotic clutter already in many homes and offices. NAPO experts provide services for both residential and commercial clients alike. Those suffering from attention deficit disorder, chronic disorganization or seniors needing help with downsizing, can all count on trained professionals from NAPO to help them solve their organizing problems.
